Chapter 23

EE : 15 : 50 ,09 , 1998

1st moon phase

3rd moon descending

He successfully pushed a couple political parties towards absolute democracy. The difficulty is that these various groups have a lot of puppets. Yet the scare-tactics are effective. They make you piss it out.

Vircingetoris is confused at what to do next. Waiting is definitely not desirable. The upcoming-voting will hopefully be done within AC via the internet channels.

Then it strikes him! He was looking around too much : from his position Vircingetoris can work within the government.

Whereas previously the government is seen as an obstacle it is now seen as a powerful friend. Vircingetoris is already infiltrated-&-influenced many channels.

He can now from his position enforce from the military the government to insure absolute defence.

There is a difficulty however for when being within something, holding a military position, it is awkward to exert the force necessary on it.

Vircingetoris

essentially holds a government position. Thus it is a catch22 being in a government position to use your power for yourself, fan the government.

That is how government works

The necessary force is to use the very conflict-at-hand to instigate change; Vircingetoris can complainheavily about his supposed-lackofpower.

By acting weak he can attract more power .

In other words from his position he can gain sympathy.

All thisethoughts roll about his head.

The question remaining is Low. How is the question after what .

Vircirgetoris decides the bestway is to generate this attractive plan as a story for the media to-parade-about on the ears of the citizens of AC.

By bitterly explaining the necessity of absolute democracy by slowing lowweak he supposedly is he can gain sympathy.

This will push the last voriable into place breaking the weoklink of social democracy. Then Vercingetoris can sitback and watch the smokecharreaction Vircingetoris is leaning back in his lacingechair and initiates the last phase . . .

The elections-come and the citizens after-a-month-of-mediabrainwashing buy-the-story for the need of absolute democracy lased-on absolutelaserdefence through a highly-computerized universalratingsystem.

Citizens Flock to the votingchannels from theirpc and militarypublicvotingcentres. With Vircirgetoris's image as a conqueror of other lands and a key-militarygovernmentpersonnel the citizens-vote in droves.

Never have so many-voted before. An amazing 95% of the population-vote for a whole month in favour of absolute democracy.

Absolute chaos breaks loose as the political parties all on-on-equal playingfield battle it out for majority-votes.

Reduced to funding lased-on percentage of votes-only the most connected make it through.

The economy goes off the measurable scaleoffluctuation as eagercitizens demand their · freedoms

Previously protectedbusinesses collaps as the citizens go back-and-forth to votingcentres on many issues. The issues are offered for voting-interms of currencyvalue _

Thus the grossnationalproduct is one of, iF not, the highest currencies.

Entertainment is pumped out like mad by the media as a stabilizer.

Being able to vote-on all major issues such as job-conditions the economy is thrown to-and-fro with each successive day of voting

With perpetual-daily-voting for a month the various sectors demand their needs&wants. This sectorsystem of AC is its saving grace. With general&local voting-issues thechannelsofchoice are stably-sectionedoff.

The powerbeing in the hands of the people, education is a huge necessity. The media does-their-best to promoteinformation as well as entertainment.

Through computers the citizens can read-the-answers to their questions.

With computers Thesafety of voting-procedures is extremely enhanced: A computersystem records each transaction within AC.

Absolute chaos breaks out as previously protectedcompanies now suffer the wrath of previously subjectedcitizens.

A 'boardofgovernors' is obseleted, deleted.

With millions of yes-or-nobuttons being pushed AC goes into a hypothalamusoverdrivesimulation.

Previously protectedmoneyflows are changed

Previously protectedrepresentatives are now computerconsoleexperts

With a month-of-fluctuating voting the real face of the masses is exposed as what it really is :

Chaos.

Without communitysectors AC would've been reduced to the individual!

It will take some months of more-voting for the hugemetropolis to stabilize.

However with majority-voting through sectors on all major issues, dependant on currencyvalue, AC will stabilize, ready for the next voting-times.

'Elections' of 'representatives are absoleted
Without computers AC would be nothing !
